

Clearview Home
shining the light of Love and healing

CLEAR VIEWS

Volume 1

Spring 2019

Calendar of events

You're Invited!

Grand Opening and Annual Gathering
June 29, 2019
11 a.m. – 3 p.m.

See our new building at 935 Main Street, Delafield, WI

Inspiring and fun, family-friendly activities including tours, music, learning about Christian Science nursing

Tuesdays and Thursdays, 2:30 p.m.
seeking volunteers to read the Bible Lesson, hold a Christian Science Monitor discussion, or visit with patients.

Please contact dirofdevelop@clearviewhome.org

Our New Purpose, Mission, and Vision

Providing a sanctuary for Christian Science healing – building progress inside and out!

Clearview Home is experiencing much newness.

The new Clearview Home is based on concrete and spiritual foundations which began with the prayerful inspiration that led to the building plans, then watching the concrete pour, and the walls rising up. We're now considering what items and ideas to move over with us. We'll certainly pack up and bring over our immense gratitude for the healings we've witnessed over the past seven decades. This deep gratitude supports our desire and vision to sustain and expand services for our community.

Christian Science nursing is our reason for being, and it often requires a safe place, but one that is never walled-in or limited. It always keeps in mind the clear view of our original divine nature as individuals created in the image and likeness of God and expects spiritual growth and visible progress.

And so, we've rewritten our mission and added purpose and vision statements that will help us to wisely guide Clearview Home's next steps. Here are the new, foundational statements, adopted at the end of February 2019.

Purpose

Providing a sanctuary for Christian Science healing

Mission

Shining the light of Love and healing through Christian Science nursing

Vision

Embracing our entire community in healing

These statements were prayerfully developed with the involvement and approval of our Board, management, and staff. After plenty of discussion and listening, it became quite clear all at once, to all of us, that these were the statements that define what Clearview Home is all about today. We wanted to incorporate the inevitability of healing, so the word “healing” is found in each statement. We also wanted to represent the significance of each word in our name: clear – view – home. We are a home—a family living and working together with a clear view of our true nature and value. That’s what Christian Science nursing put into practice looks like.

Our vision expresses a sincere desire for healing—not just for us, but for all humanity. Thus, these three statements express a universal application of the “light of Love” for everyone – whether inside or outside our walls. They are inclusive of our “entire community” – friends, neighbors, and anyone who steps onto our property, visits our website, or hears about us from a guest.

As we continue to grow and move forward over the next few months, we will be trying on our new purpose, mission, and vision – ideas from the one Mind – and seeing how they will shape our new demonstrations in our new building. What will the new “sanctuary” look like, feel like, offer to our community? A sanctuary is a place—perhaps a building with walls and roof—but it is also a spiritual presence that you might feel in nature, protected by a glade of trees, or the joy you experience when you’re gathering with loved ones. Be assured that the sense of sanctuary now felt in our current building will move right over to our new one.

The move also will allow us to take a new look at tasks and procedures involved in administering Clearview with the “light of Love and healing.” What methods did we use because of the condition of our current building that we won’t need in our new facility? What ways in which we work together will become easier in a more modern and creative setting? Will there be healing in our thought from letting go of a traditional structure and past routines? The building, the move, and fresh new ways are evidence of healing – for our patients, residents, and guests, as well as our management and staff. Through our practice and understanding of Christian Science, we are never the same as the moment before. A BIG change like the one Clearview Home is experiencing will mean glorious new views and monumental shifts. And they are bound to benefit not only all of us here, but also the “entire community.”

We hope you’ll visit our new facility and find out how we’re bringing a renewed expression of Christian Science nursing to our region. So, please save the date of Saturday, June 29, 2019, for a Grand Opening and Annual Gathering. This will be an opportunity to embrace each other in healing love and express our profound gratitude for God’s grace and light!

Our vision expresses a sincere desire for healing, not just for us, but for all humanity.

Message from our Executive Director

The unfolding and fruition of our new purpose, mission, and vision statements are the outcomes of several years of prayerful thinking about Clearview Home in a new way. One of the younger members of our team called it a “rebranding” of our organization. We sincerely took to heart the name of the organization and asked God to show us a clearer view of our purpose, mission, and vision. The outcome was to embark on a new building project and re-think our purpose, mission, and vision statements.

Our Purpose statement, “Providing a sanctuary for Christian Science healing” came from a couple of sources. A former patient commented, “It is important that God’s children have a safe place to heal and I have found it here at Clearview Home.” The word sanctuary kept coming up in our discussions. We wanted to provide a sanctuary-like atmosphere conducive to spiritual growth and healing. A sanctuary atmosphere provides a structure that can gather gentle rains of spiritual blessings to soothe inflamed thought. It can warm the iciness of a cold heart. It can protect those that struggle for peace or feel the pain of injustice or fear.

Our purpose creates a sanctuary so our Mission, “Shining the light of Love and healing through Christian Science nursing,” can grow and thrive. It is our desire to provide a sanctuary for the Christian Science nurse to shine the light of divine Love in support of healing. How does this work? Christian Science nurses regularly turn away from the material picture and look deep into spiritual reality as they nurse very difficult and sometimes physically aggressive situations. This turning away from the physical picture while providing physical care brings spiritual reality to all situations. How wonderful to know that no matter the picture, the person caring for you is seeing you as God sees you: upright – whole – free – loved – cherished – complete – right at this very moment! This kind of thinking brings spiritual power to the patient’s and the Christian Science practitioner’s prayers. We like to think that healing is inevitable.

This brings us to our Vision for the Clearview Home campus, “Embracing our entire community in healing.” Community can describe many different groups. We have an organizational community, a church community, a neighborhood community, a regional community, a national community, and a global community. During our discussions of how we can bless all those we meet, is also the recognition that by blessing one, we bless all. One of the pivotal thoughts in our building work this year is that Clearview Home is a blessing. We are a blessing to patients and their families. We are a blessing to our neighborhood and city. Clearview Home is here to bless no matter what “community” we belong to.

We are so grateful for the support of our friends, neighbors, and church family as we have moved through the building process and “rebranding”—really a rebirth of and appreciation for 71 years of Christian Science healing here at Clearview Home.

Blessings to all! Elizabeth Harned, Executive Director

Gratitude and Healings

We appreciate all your good work and prayers, knowing how continual and steadfast you need to be!
- A friend

I strongly agree that my stay at Clearview Home has been conducive to my study and practice of Christian Science. The healing atmosphere was so evident even at my arrival. And it resulted in a beautiful healing for which I am deeply grateful!!
- A former patient

Words fall short when it comes to expressing our gratitude for all your compassion and kindness. We deeply appreciate your “goodness and tender, constant care (Hymn # 374)” as our family progresses through the days and nights. Clearview truly is a holy place, thanks to each and every one of you.

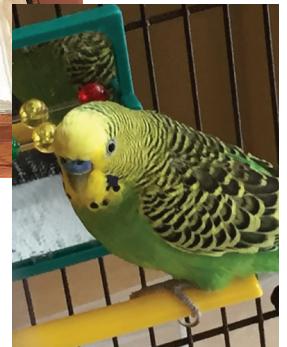

4 - Family of a patient

Mobility aids available for loan or to keep. As we prepare to move to our new building, we are giving away extra equipment. Churches may find it helpful to have wheelchairs or walkers on hand for the temporary use of your members. Please contact dirofdevelop@clearviewhome.org

Grateful to own a rare, limited subscription edition of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy as a part of our library collection.

Message from the Executive Board: Teamwork

The Board of Directors of Clearview Home is part of a team that is carrying out our Leader's provision for Christian Science nursing by providing a "sanctuary for Christian Science healing." Mary Baker Eddy has taught us to turn to God for guidance and inspiration as we make decisions affecting the healing activity of Christian Science nursing at Clearview Home. We strive to be part of an effective team that works together harmoniously, by putting prayer first.

We are grateful to report that working together and prayerfully supporting our Executive Director and her Management Team, we have seen the "light of Love" result in healings taking place and in the progress on the new Christian Science nursing facility, which will be open at the end of June.

Won't you join our team by serving as a volunteer, by spreading the word of the good work that we are doing, and by supporting Clearview Home financially as we "embrace our whole community in healing?"

We love our volunteers!

They bring with them such inspiration and enthusiasm. When we asked them what they love about volunteering, here's what they told us...

Volunteering has double blessings – those we help inspire us, too. We make new friends and connections. We see love reflected. When I volunteer for community organizations, I often can share about Christian Science. Clearview Home's new mission statement, "shining the light of Love and healing..." is a good description of volunteering

I appreciated the time and inspiration that [the guests] shared in the Interactive Bible Lesson Reading. It added to my understanding of true Substance.

...withhold not good from whom it is due." I was not always able to volunteer but as soon as I could, I signed up!

I volunteer out of state and often with youth. Volunteering is global and you get to know new places and people from all over.

I love to see the good that unfolds when I volunteer. You learn to listen and to trust God a lot!

Jesus asks us to help one another. After telling the parable of the Good Samaritan, Jesus said, "Go, and do thou likewise!" Volunteering is a great way to follow Christ Jesus and be obedient.

Our volunteers are helping us in many ways - serving on the Board and Committees, reading the Bible Lesson, being Church Reps, and visiting our patients. Volunteers are even helping grow the Volunteer Program. And we are very grateful for the ideas they are presenting and helping to put into practice. For example, a friendly Volunteer Application has been created – please find it on our website, www.clearviewhome.org. An Orientation Booklet is being developed that will inspire and guide new and current volunteers.

And what are the new opportunities that you might want to volunteer for?
I'm sure there is one just right for your special talent or skill.

Events

help prepare for our Grand Opening Annual Gathering on June 29th – in the months leading up to and the day of.

Gardeners

enjoy getting your hands dirty – basic and advanced skills appreciated

Readers

share the word from the Bible lesson, periodicals, or even inspiring poems and fiction

Musicians

sing, lead a hymn sing, perform

Friendly visitors

have a conversation, sit outside together, listen to music

Photographers

interior and exterior, stills and action shots

Clerical

various office duties, mailings, organizing, etc.

Providing services & resources 24/7

Christian Science Nursing Care
Inpatient
Outpatient Visiting

Rest and Study

Sheltered Care

Meetings in the field

Volunteer & Giving Opportunities

Healthcare information for Christian Scientists

(262) 646-3361

www.clearviewhome.org

info@clearviewhome.org

board/mgmt.
Dave Anderson
President

Marian Sorensen
Vice-President/Secretary

Penny Roehrer
Treasurer

Janice Ness
Trustee

Barbara Zanoni
Trustee

Elizabeth Harned
Executive Director

Jeffrey Deemer-White
Director of Christian Science Nursing

Brian Harned
Director of Operations

Lynn Meyerson
Director of Development and Communications

Clearview Home Corporation
935 Main Street
Delafield, WI 53018

Join our mailing list

Let's connect. We'd love to have your address and email.
Please add, change, or remove your contact information by calling: (262) 646-3361, press option 4 or email: dirofdevelop@clearviewhome.org