sci·en·tīf·ic
READING
Workshop

Given by Alexander Cavalli, PhD

Saturday November 2, 2024
9:00 - 11:00 am

For all who read aloud from the Christian Science Pastor

Register at info@clearviewhome.org

What to Expect. Many of the topics in the newly released book on Scientific Reading, including:

- Language of Spirit and the New Tongue
- Conversational reading
- Transparency for Truth
- Your natural voice

Alex Cavalli's greatest joy has come from developing and delivering live performances of The Gospel of St. John and Paul, Face to Face, taken from the King James Translation of the Bible. These performances and the response to them led Alex to helping others read the spiritual texts of Christian Science — particularly the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy. Alex coaches individuals from around the world. He has served as First Reader and is an occasional substitute for both Readers. www.scientificreading.org

sci·en·'tif·ic READING

This workshop will illustrate and teach the principles of scientific reading. It is based on the book “sci · ěn · 'tĭf · ĭc READING” by Alexander Cavalli.

The workshop will include participatory exercises, written and spoken, from the Bible and Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. The duration of the workshop will depend on how many participants attend, but should be at minimum about two hours.

The basic structure of the workshop will cover these topics:

- Spoken examples – the natural conversational style of our Pastor
- Finding our natural voice – exercises
- The original language of Spirit
- Our scientific language
- The language of Spirit and the new tongue
- Relevance to today’s world thought
- Word pronunciation and scientific meaning
- Cadences and word pronunciation
- Keywords – exercises written and spoken
- Rhythm and pacing
- Connector words (i.e. pronouns) – exercises
- Inclusive/Exclusive words – exercises
- Some practical things – breathing, entering into words
- Do we really need all that extra information? – exercises
- Putting it all together – a change in our thought
- Readings by participants who volunteer
- Any other topics of interest to the participants

It is hoped that each individual will obtain and read the book “sci · ěn · 'tĭf · ĭc READING” before attending. Please contact us if you need assistance.
